The grand juror who stayed all night at a Rushville hotel Wednesday night can not be found. Each member of the grand jury which was investigating the Harris case accounted for his presence at his home, with one exception. That exception was George Hall, brother of Lieut. Gov. Frank J. Hall of Washington township, who did not stay at a local hotel Wednesday night, according to his own assertion.

A story, printed in the Jacksonian last night, inferred that an effort had been made to tamper with the grand jury and that outside influences were being brought to bear on the jury. This inference was drawn from the fact that a grand juror stayed Wednesday night with a man who has considerable interest in the case.

If the statements of the members of the grand jury are to be taken for anything, no member of the probing body stayed at a Rushville hotel on Wednesday night. They all slept at their own homes, except George Hall, who remained all night with Jake Parrish, living a short distance northeast of Rushville.

Like a bolt out of a clear sky came the announcement last night that the grand jury had adjourned shortly after five o'clock, not to convene again and resume the investigation of the Harris case until Monday morning at nine o'clock.

The reason for the adjournment of the grand jury is undetermined. One theory is that the grand jury adjourned until the rumor of grand jury tampering had blown over. It was said by some it was the desire of certain officials to allow the matter to cool off a little.

Another theory was that it was desired to dispose of the Dennis O'Neil case before the grand jury resumed its investigation. It is understood that it was deemed the wisest plan to have Wallace Morgan in charge of the grand jury because he was acting as deputy prosecutor when the case first arose and is acquainted with many of the details of evidence. Wallace Morgan's appointment as deputy prosecutor is now in the balance, as the hearing in the revocation proceedings started by the prosecutor, and the denial of Mr. Morgan to all of the charges set forth by O'Neil will not come off until tomorrow morning.

John C. Cheney, deputy prosecutor of Shelby county, who was placed in charge of the grand jury convened in lieu of any one else to place there, it is said, was not familiar with the Harris case at all and was not prepared to conduct the deliberations of the body.

No official could be found today who knew or who had heard that a member of the grand jury had slept at a local hotel Wednesday night with a man who had evinced considerable interest in the Harris case.

One or two officials connected with the inquiry said they had heard a story to the effect that an attempt might have been made to tamper with the grand jury, although they had no exact evidence other than that they had heard the current rumor and had understood that an attorney who is closely related to a member of the grand jury had been employed as one of the attorneys for Paul Harris who have presented witnesses to the grand jury whom they would like examined.

The story that the grand jury would investigate much further and would rely in a large measure on the evidence gathered by Coroner A. G. Shauck is given little credence. It is stated positively that the probe will be just as far reaching and comprehensive as it was ever intended it should be, and that every bit of evidence possible will be presented to the grand jury.

Every member of the grand jury was interviewed at their homes by telephone today in order to ascertain if there was any truth in the rumor that a member slept at a hotel here Wednesday night. One of them resented the story because it questioned the veracity of the members of the grand jury.

Frank Sample of Jackson township said that he went home for supper Wednesday in his automobile. He attended lodge after supper, he said, and then went home and slept soundly all night.

Noah Moore of Arlington declared that he went home immediately after the grand jury adjourned and remained there all night. So far as he knows, he said, no member stayed at a hotel here that night.

F. J. Eubank, living about three miles northeast of here, stated that he went home that evening and slept there all night. "I think it's pretty hard," he added, "for the grand jury to have to work it has and then be slandered."

Cliff Winship, living south of Rushville, declared that he stayed at home Wednesday night. "Someone might have stayed at the hotel, but it was not I," he said.

George Hall of Washington township said that he stayed all night Wednesday with Jake Parrish, living a little over a mile northeast of Rushville. He explained that he intended to go home with his brother, as he had no other means for traveling, but that he and his brother missed connections. He said he was a very good friend of Jake Parrish, and was picked up by him (Parrish) after he learned his brother had gone home.

Lem Ward of Jackson township asserted that he slept in his own bed at home Wednesday night.

KILLS HIMSELF AND SEARCH ENDS

Arthur L. Mostler, Formerly of Knightstown, Takes Life When Near Police's Clutches.

WANTED FOR WIFE DESERTION

Charged Also That He Embezzled $700 While in Chicago—took Carbolic Acid.

Through information that has reached the Indianapolis police, it develops that Arthur L. Mostler, formerly of Knightstown, who died in Salt Lake City, Utah, on March 20th, committed suicide. Mostler had been sought for several months by the police of the capital city, on the charge of wife desertion. Mrs. Russia Mostler, who, with two small children, lives in Indianapolis, appealed to the detective department last fall to find her husband, as she said she was almost destitute and had two little ones dependent on her.

Mostler deserted his wife and children last September for a woman from Sunbury, Pa. Information from Sunbury to the police was received last, telling of the departure of a Mrs. Kahler and a small son to join Mostler in the West. Mostler was traced to Los Angeles and Salt Lake City, but the detectives always failed when his arrest seemed about to be realized.

Mostler had been indicted by the Marion county grand jury. He was first traced to Chicago, where, it was said, he embezzled about $700 from the Indiana Boiler Washing Company with which he was said to have been employed.

The Indianapolis police received a communication, with newspaper clippings, from Sheriff Gray of Las Vegas, Nev., which said that Mostler and the Kahler woman had been separated for some time. In Salt Lake City the woman was picked up while wandering about with her son, and she was cared for by charitable people of that city.

Mostler is said to have gone under the name of Johnson in Salt Lake City. He killed himself by taking carbolic acid.

anapolis Will be Speaker at High

The Montani orchestra will furnish the music. The commencement will be held on the night of May 24.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by the Rev. J. B. Meacham in the Main Street Christian church Sunday evening, May 19.

BASE BALL TEAM SEEMS ASSURED

F. A. Maibaugh Has Lease on the Grounds and is Awaiting Encouragement From Merchants

GRAND STAND TO COST $400

Prospects For Winning Team Looks
Good According to "Dope"— Pitching Staff Strong.

That Rushville will have a base ball team seems assured. F. A. Maibaugh, who will manage the team, has been working on the proposition and has made considerable progress towards putting a team in the field. An effort will be made today or tomorrow to see what encouragement the merchants will offer and if reasonable the team is a "sure go."

Since the talk of a ball team for the city was started, a number of players have talked to Mr. Maibaugh and he has a number signed up for the team, subject to a try out. Mr. Maibaugh has succeeded in obtaining a lease on the South Main street grounds. It will cost very little to put the grounds in shape. The greatest cost for the proposed ball park will be the erecting of a grand stand. The estimated cost of the structure is given as $400. Mr. Maibaugh does not feel warranted in building this himself, but with a little help from the merchants it would be an easy matter and would cost no one a very large sum. After the team is organized and the stand built, Mr. Maibaugh would then take the responsibility.

It has long been the opinion that with the material here a winning team could be developed. Hardly a day passes, but what a new player of promise reports to Mr. Maibaugh. Among the latest to come in is Omer Pea. Pea is an infielder and is well known to local fans. The other infield positions can be taken care of by Ed Carter, Don Casady and Charlie Combs. These men need no introduction as their ability is known. Another player, for both the infield or outfield is Laird Hanna. Hanna was given a try-out with the Brooklyn Nationals last year and farmed to Chattanooga in the Southern league. Hanna's regular position is at third base, but he can play almost any position.

The pitching staff of the team looks strong and also adds much as far as the "dope" is concerned. Blaine Halterman, the Moscow wonder, is now working in this city and it is understood he is willing for a try-out. Halterman is considered one of the best pitchers in this part of the State and should be a valuable man for the team. Others among the pitchers are "Peck" Orme, "Pig" Yazel, and Ritchie. Mr. Maibaugh has a letter from "Chic" Avery of Indianapolis wanting a berth on the local team. Avery pitched for Richmond last year and beat Connorsville, Cambridge City and Newcastle. Richmond is after Avery this year, but he is willing to come to this city. The local men will be given the preference and in case they do not make good Avery may be taken on for a trial.

The back stopping end of the game will be well taken care of. Will Perry, who is now at a local barber shop, played professional ball for seventeen years and it is understood he is willing to play on a local team if one is organized. Charles Combs is also a catcher of ability and can be alternated from catch to first base.

So far the outfield has not been given much consideration, but this department can be made as strong as the others. Mr. Maibaugh has his eyes on Jesse Ruby of Carthage, for left field. Ruby formerly pitched for Purdue University and later played left field for Davenport, Rock Island and Decatur in the Three I league. He is well known to local fans and if he consents to play left field, will be well taken care of. Much interest is being shown among the players and all are anxious to get started.

YOUNG WIFE IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Mrs. Wynema Pratt of Hancock County Recites Story of Brief Matrimonial Venture.

MAIDEN NAME IS RETURNED

Mrs. Wynema Pratt of Hancock county this morning granted a divorce, and the use of her maiden, by Judge Blair, after hearing the testimony of Mrs. Pratt. The husband did not appear in court but was represented by an attorney. The suit was sent here March 18 on a change of venue. Mrs. Pratt recited some of the troubles of their brief matrimonial venture to the court. She told that her husband often took her to Greenfield and never gave her money to pay for her dinner. She told of Mr. Pratt's sudden fits of anger, how he shot and killed a hog while in such a state. The defendant is said to be the son of a very wealthy land owner in Hancock county. Mrs. Pratt was represented by Earl Sample, candidate for judge of the Hancock circuit court.

BITTEN BY DOG; TAKES TREATMENT

Frederick Sohn, a farmer Living Near Carthage, Goes to Pasteur Institute in Indianapolis.

IS NOT IN ANY GREAT DANGER

Frederick Sohn, living north of Carthage has gone to Indianapolis to take the Pasteur treatment. Last week Mr. Sohn was bitten on the thumb of his right hand by his dog. The dog later died and its head was sent to Indianapolis for analysis. It was pronounced as having been affected with rabies. The wound on Mr. Sohn's hand bled profusely, but he was advised to take the Pasteur treatment.

A few weeks ago a strange dog, which was thought to be mad visited the Sohn premises, but it was not known then that the dog was bitten. Although the treatment was started a little late, it is said he is in no immediate danger. Mr. Sohn lives on the Dr. Righter farm, between Carthage and Knightstown and is the son-in-law of Alva Newsom of Ripley township.

SUIT TO COLLECT $2345 IN COURT

Some Delay in Starting Case of Erdman, Trustee, Against Greensburg National Bank.

OBJECTIONS GALORE FILED

Trustee's Attorneys Attempt to Show Collusion in Attorney's Appear-and—Not Heeded by Blair.

After Judge Blair had granted a divorce to Mrs. Wynema Pratt of Hancock county in the circuit court this morning, the case of George Erdman, trustee in bankruptcy of James W. Craig, against the Greensburg national bank to recover a preferential payment in the sum of $2,345, was called for trial.

The court had some difficulty in getting the case under way, J. K. Ewing, former Judge of the Decatur circuit court, and Sam Trabue of this city represented the trustee, and for the bank there appeared the law firm of Treeman & Turner, and Attorney Craig of Greensburg and John H. Kiplinger of this city. The case was sent here from Greensburg on a change of venue.

Just as the first evidence was to be taken, Sam Trabue arose and asked the court to compel Attorney Craig, seated with his attorneys for the bank, to enter his appearance in the case. He insinuated, or in reality said, that a collusion might be shown from the fact that the attorney was the son of the bankrupt in the case. Judge Blair said he had no power in the matter and the attorney could sit where he pleased and confer with whom he pleased.

Judge Ewing began his case in a manner which appeared to be irregular from the manner in which the attorneys for the bank filed objections to almost every question he asked. The court pointed out it was the practice in this court to enter the papers as exhibits in the case first and allow the defense to file objections. This was finally done, after some delay.

In his examination of the witness Mr. Ewing interspersed his questions with short speeches in which he sought to show the court that this was a case which in reality would be tried in a court of bankruptcy.

Judge Blair seemed to believe that Judge Ewing was inclined to wander a little off the case in hand, and several times reminded the attorney that he should come back to questions involved in the suit being tried.

The hearing of the case was expected to drag along throughout the day. Other witness for the plaintiff, aside from the trustee in bankruptcy, did not arrive until after eleven o'clock. After the trustee, Mr. Erdman, finished his testimony, John E. Perry, cashier of the Greensburg national bank, was placed on the stand.

CABLE SHIP SLOWLY GETTING INTO PORT

Has On Board 205 Bodies of Titanic Victims.

New York, April 26.—The steamer Mackay-Bennett again got into communication with this city with the announcement that 205 bodies of those who lost their lives in the Titanic disaster had been recovered, and there came through two messages telling her position and something of the difficulties she is meeting besides a corrected list of identifications so far made. It is now certain that the body of George D. Widener of Philadelphia is among those picked up by the cable steamer. The sending in of the name L. Butt instead of H. B. Att has again stirred the hope that she may have on board the body of the president's aide. The name W. Vear, which has given the White Star line officials a great deal of trouble and which to experienced telegraphers appears as a mistaken transmission of the name of William T. Stead, the English journalist, appears on the revised list. A number of uncertainties regarding names will be cleared up when the Adriatic arrives here tomorrow. She is bringing a correct list of all who sailed on the Titanic.

The Mackay-Bennett has been hampered in the recovery of bodies by a dense fog, and it is likely that the efforts of the White Star line to bring in all bodies that could possibly be preserved will not be obeyed for lack of embalming fluid. No word has come from the Minia, which was sent out to help her.

See the new Maxwell Mascotte—the Great American Family Car

The Maxwell Mascotte is a big, stylish, well-built car for the family man. It meets a long-standing demand for a real family car at less than $1000.

In its design are embodied the same mechanical construction and materials—the same Maxwell qualities that won the Glidden Tour. This means a dependable car, efficient at all times.

Maxwell reliability and durability are endorsed by 49,000 Maxwell owners. The New York State records also prove these qualities—91 per cent of Maxwell cars registered in 1905 being again registered in 1911, showing seven years' continuous usage.

The Mascotte is just the car required by the family man—and at a reasonable figure. It is unequaled by any other car selling within $200 of its price.

This price is the result of great purchasing power, unequaled manufacturing facilities and quantity production of the United States Motor Company.

Maxwell Mascotte $980

This year's Glidden Tour furnished the hardest test of automobile efficiency on record. Maxwell was the only team to finish the gruelling contest with a perfect score.

Four Maxwells finished the 1454-mile contest without a penalty, winning all trophies. In competition with practically every other American motor car, regardless of price, Maxwell team was the only one to show 100 per cent efficiency all the way. Through heavy mud and sand, swollen streams, storm-flooded Appalachian Mountain roads—Maxwell proved its reliability under all conditions.

This is the car for you—the family man, the real backbone of the nation—and we want you and your family to come and ride in it. See for yourself its handsome appearance—its high-grade character. If you cannot call today, make an appointment. In the meantime, write for "The Story of the Glidden Tour," "How to Judge an Auto," and the advance 1912 catalog.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR APRIL 28.

THE BEATITUDES.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 5:1-12.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God."

It was St. Augustine who first gave the ordination address of Jesus, after choosing the twelve, the title of "The Sermon on the Mount," a title now universally accepted. It is better perhaps "The Gospel of the Kingdom," telling us of the characteristics of these members of the new kingdom Jesus came to establish, the influence of these members upon the world, and is a commentary upon the laws of this kingdom. It is this, and more, for it is a prophecy of the church at work and also a test whereby we are to know who belong to this kingdom.

Their Spiritual Meaning.
There are in reality only seven of the Beatitudes, the "blessednesses" and seven is always typical of perfectness. They are written in Old Testament language, but give the old form a new and spiritual meaning. The rewards are not arbitrary, but are the logical outgrowth of the character depicted.

The first four are passive virtues. Happy are those who are poor in spirit, not the poor-spirited but the humble minded ones conscious of their need. It is the poor, as to this world, that are to be rich in faith and to be heirs of that kingdom which Christ has promised to those that love him (Jas. 2:5). Happy are those that mourn, for they mourn not as those who have no hope, they shall be comforted, yea, they shall be strengthened. Paul tells us of that sorrow which is unto salvation and need not to be repented of, but the sorrow of the world worketh death. Happy are the meek, those who are not proud. The pride of man is soon cut off as grass. In him, the meek and lowly, we are to find rest to our souls. We are exhorted by the meekness and gentleness of Christ to receive instruction and Peter tells us that our ornamentation that shall be of the greatest price is to be meek and quiet in spirit.

At this point the master begins to make his practical application of the lives of those having these characteristics, upon the world about them. Happy are the merciful. The withholding of mercy tends to poverty, but the liberal soul shall be made fat, for to the merciful he will show himself to be merciful. Forgiveness, and forgiving we enter into this happiness, being kind, forgiving, tender-hearted, even as Christ hath forgiven us.

Righteousness Defined.
Happy are the pure for they may draw nigh unto God in full assurance of faith for themselves and on behalf of others. Indeed the writer of Hebrews tells us that without holiness (purity) no man can see God, not our own righteousness wherein we might boast but the righteousness which is by faith.

Happy are the peace-makers, the receivers and the diffusers of this kingdom. Not merely peaceable men, nor pieces of men, but rather as Tyndale's version is, "the maintainers of peace." Led by the spirit of God they are not only called the sons of God, but are the sons of God (Rom. 8:14). "The cause, not the pain, makes the martyr," said St. Augustine. Those who are presented for righteousness' sake, not those who seek persecution, are possessors of this kingdom; possessing it they are persecuted.

Being is doing—doing does not produce life, and we have here a linking of the old law and the new gospel. His kingdom brings blessedness, happiness; Satan's kingdom turns to the apples of Sodom. God says, speak out, endure for others. His kingdom is distinguished by altruism. The kingdom of darkness says: "Keep still, live for yourself." This kingdom knows not the essence of brotherhood.

Man ever asks this old question: "How may I be happy?" Those whom Jesus selects as the happy ones are looked upon by the world as the most unfortunate, but time has proven and eternity will justify these declarations of Christ. The good of this age belongs to the selfish and self-assertive, the good of the coming age to the self-renouncing. It is better to have sorrowed and to have received his comfort than never to have sorrowed at all. The message of the meek will get a hearing as against the censorious, and the supremely happy are those who shall see God.

Hunger for the highest and the noblest can find a supply, for all its needs in Jesus the Son of God and only according to the principles he here sets forth.

Jesus saw the multitude when he gave us this sermon, which is not a sermon at all. He understood their need, the state of their hearts and what was in their minds. He did not see them as so many pawns upon the chess board of life; he saw their life, their sorrows, their sins. He read the story of human need and human destiny.

Why rejoice over our reproach? Because this is the path into this new kingdom. And when we walk "for Christ's sake" we shall enter therein and rejoice greatly for we shall have "great reward in heaven."

Christian Endeavor By F. B. Gates

TOPIC FOR APRIL 28.

The Home Missions of My Denomination. A Bird's-Eye View. Ps. 33:8-22. The world includes America as well as China. It means the negro and the immigrant as well as the Persian or the Korean. Christ's command to go into all the world to preach the gospel applies to the West Indian as much as to the East Indian. There should be no distinction between home and foreign missions.

The problem of home missions is vital to our country's welfare. The immigration question, the negro problem, Mormonism and its attendant evils, the religious life of our more sparsely settled areas, all the problems of city life—the slum, white slavery, disease and degradation, poverty, crime, are issues which must be faced and solved if our nation is to endure. "The conservation of our national ideals," the permanence of our republican form of government, depend upon the work of the home missionary.

His work may not seem so attractive, perhaps, as that of his brother in the foreign field, but it is equally important. It is so close at hand that the sordid details are prominent and we are tempted to turn away in disgust. But his task is of equal importance with the foreign work and he equally deserves our sympathy, our prayers and our material support.

To the young man or woman with a life to invest for the master, to whom opportunity for service means more than comfort or pleasant associations, with the courage to endure hardships and the backbone to fight against overwhelming odds, there is no richer field than that of home missions.

The call to the home field is just as loud and insistent as the call from across the sea.

Suggestive Questions

(Copyright, 1911, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.)

The Beatitudes. Matt. v:1-12.
Golden Text—Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God. Matt. v:8.

(1.) Verse 1—Should ministers aim to get big crowds for their congregations? Give your reasons.

(2.) Did Jesus in this instance get away from the multitude in order to teach his disciples alone? Give your reasons.

(3.) Which does the more effectual work, one who teaches and fits a few men to influence hundreds of thousands, or one who preaches to a crowd direct? Why?

(4.) Verses 2-3—Which are more blessed—great, rich and good men or the little known, poor and good men, and why?

(5.) What is it to be poor in spirit? (6.) Is it possible for a rich man to be poor in spirit, and if so how?

(7.) What is "the kingdom of heaven" as Jesus here meant?

(8.) Verse 4—What is it to be "blessed?"

(9.) Does blessedness necessarily include happiness? Why or why not? (10.) What effect does sorrow always have upon "the poor in spirit?"

(11.) Does Jesus mean that to mourn is in itself blessed or because it is the only way to reach the highest joy? (12.) Verse 5—What is a "meek" man after the meaning of Jesus? (See Ps. xxxvii:11.)

(13.) Dividing men in two classes—the meek and the proud—which class would you say gets the best things in this life?

(14.) Verse 6—What is the literal meaning of hungering and thirsting after righteousness?

(15.) Does Jesus mean that if we seek with sufficient intensity we may reach an experience in which we please God all the time, and, if not, what does he mean? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(16.) Verse 7—Why cannot a man receive the mercy of God if he is cruel either in act or speech to man or beast?

(17.) Verse 8—What is it to be pure in heart?

(18.) Why is it that so few persons are as conscious of the presence of God as if they saw him with the outward eyes?

(19.) Verse 9—Why is not a quarrelsome man, or one who fans the flame of dissension, a child of God?

(20.) Verses 10-12—Are true Christians persecuted in these days as they were in those days, and, if so, why is it?

(21.) Ought we to be sad or glad when we are persecuted for righteousness' sake?

(22.) What form does persecution of earnest Christians take in these days. Lesson for Sunday, May 5, 1912. Poverty and Riches. Luke vi:20-26; xvi:10-31.

What are Poisons?

It is sometimes claimed that temperance legislation is an attempt to interfere with personal liberty, and that no other motive governs temperance advocates than a desire to interfere with the rights or privileges of other citizens. Nothing could be further from the truth. The only motive governing is the public good, and incidentally each individual member of the community. And on that ground temperance agitation is just as broad and just as the anti-slavery agitation which led up to the civil war.

And in fact, health boards everywhere are attacking evils which threaten filth, flies, foul air, impure water, everything injurious to mankind. It will be interesting to note that coffee is classed as a poison, along with alcohol and the insignificant pickle is also under the ban. The two latter are not used to a dangerous extent, nevertheless they are poisons. This week's bulletin of the Indiana State board of health says: "Whiskey contains alcohol and pharmacology classes alcohol as a poison. Coffee contains caffeine, and

Sam Sanderson Says:

That he has often wondered how well water can make people sick yet he is acquainted with the fact that such cases are known to medical science.

pharmacology classes caffeine as a narcotic and heart and kidney stimulant (irritant), and a poison. Pickles are difficult digestible fruits and vegetables soaked in acetic acid. When diluted, acetic acid is known as vinegar. Pharmacology classes acetic acid as a mild caustic, an irritant to the alimentary mucous membrane and a poison. Even the arch poisons, strychnine and arsenic, when taken in minute amounts, do not cause death, but if taken for a long time cause troubles which are hard to down. Alcohol, caffeine and acetic acid may be taken diluted for a long time without causing death, but like arsenic and strychnine, when long taken, they cause troubles which are hard to down. These are well known physiological and pharmacological facts and are laid down in the books. We would not use diluted strychnine and arsenic as articles of diet, even if they were tasty, and even if they did not whip up the nerves and create unnatural appetite. Why then do we use alcohol, caffeine and pickles as articles of diet? They are unquestionably slow poisons and they unquestionably do the human family infinite harm. Alcohol long taken, brings ill health, disease, poverty, crime and insanity. Caffeine in our coffee and tea injures the heart, brain and kidneys and so brings disease and its train of ills. Pickles, with the acetic acid cause dyspepsia, induce over-eating, irritate the mucous membrane of the stomach and intestines and so cause disease.

"If we would cut out these three articles from our dietary, our natural efficiency would be greatly increased. Why not cut them out and enjoy the benefits? Will we do it? Not much. We will continue to slowly poison ourselves, then foolishly try to mend the matter with more drugs, and we will, in our conceit, call the scientists cranks for pointing out how we would be happier, stronger and richer and live longer?"

Better Roads Mean

Better schools and greater attendance.
Better health and quicker medical attention.
Better farms and more cultivated land.
Better crops and cheaper transportation.
Better economic conditions and more producers.
Better social conditions and less isolation.
Better church attendance and better citizens.

Has it ever occurred to you that we are made more human by the presence of the automobile?

There is surely something in the assertion.

One of the most disagreeable sights in a metropolitan community is that of a brute of a man beating an emaciated, overworked horse when it refuses to do what it is unable to do.

The effect of unkind treatment of dumb animals on human character is frequently more serious than the physical suffering that is inflicted.

The automobile is doing much to improve humans by taking from them submissive animals. You can't injure an inanimate object. You may damage your buzz buggy, but it has no nerves, no feelings.

It is a well recognized fact, particularly in the United States, that the moral standard is raised when slavery is abolished in any county or community.

In this country the slavery of human beings has been abolished, but strangely we still have horse slavery, which is accompanied by the worst

Editorialettes.

We need a little more sunshine.

We observe the fashion page on one of the big prints says the form and the gown should melt together. In regard to that we would advise those following this fashion note not to be hasty but wait—say 'til next July or August.

Whether the city street cleaning department is playing in tough luck or not is a matter for debate. Tennyrate it is having something similar to misfortune. Last night the department hauled out its sprinkling wagon and flooded Main street from one end to the other. The good sweeper was slipped out and started to work. The sweeper swept—yes, it swept—but only a part of the way. Result: kicks.

It will be admitted for the sake of argument the street sweeper was bought to sweep. Whether it should be used to sweep the northern part of Main street is the question.

And the next day the rain fell like blazes!

Jimmie cards us to know if that man who worked on the street cleaning department the other day with a stiff hat and a stiff-bosomed shirt is a stiff. Why, of course not, son.

What's so rare as a clean back yard?

Already 22 Women of Rushville

Have Joined the Hoosier Club For $1.00

3 Women May Still Join

You too, may save steps and have a model kitchen like the 450,000 other women in the United States who own Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets. This community is rapidly becoming filled with model kitchens. Already 22 women have joined the Hoosier Club and had their Hoosier Cabinet delivered immediately upon payment of merely $1.00.

You Get the Lowest Prices

The Hoosier Mfg. Co. fixes the low price at which Hoosier Cabinets may be sold all over the United States. You cannot buy a Hoosier for one penny less than this price, and the Club plan gives you the benefit of the same low cost that you would obtain if you paid cash. The Hoosier Company enables us to make this limited offer simply to further advertise the remarkable labor-saving features of this famous Cabinet.

A Community of Model Kitchens

Women who own Hoosier Cabinets, are delighted with them. They say, "It saves miles of steps for tired feet!" "My silent servant!" "I have had mine since I began housekeeping, and like it better every day!" "The most perfect kitchen cabinet I ever saw!" "It hands things to me like an automade servant!"

22 Already Sold

"I wouldn't trade mine for a hundred dollars!" "I wouldn't keep house without it!"

Here is the Club Plan in Detail

In most cities, the Hoosier Club is limited to 15 members. So many women in Rushville wanted Hoosiers, however, that we secured special permission to organize a Club of 25. Each lady who enrolls her name with a membership fee of $1.00, before this club is filled, is entitled to receive her Hoosier Cabinet, (exactly like cut) immediately, no matter where you live, balance payable in small weekly dues of $1.00.

Differs From Installment Plan

This club differs radically from the installment plan, which often links with unknown goods at high prices. The Hoosier Company fixes the price absolutely, so as to give you the full benefit of the low cost from enormous manufacture. Enter your name today before the club is filled.

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, uriny disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are common symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is recommended for the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. It has cured many stubborn cases in this vicinity.

Can Rushville residents demand further proof than the following testimonial?

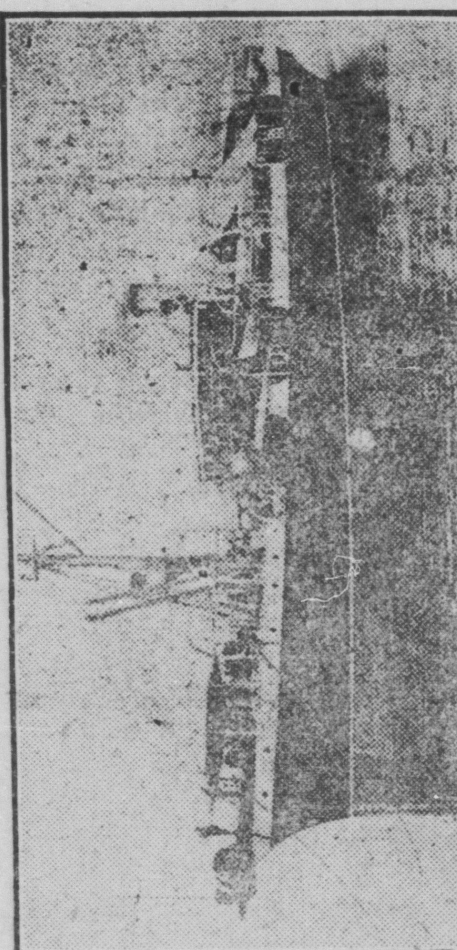

Mrs. L. W. Smith, R. F. D. No. 19, Arlington, Ind., says: "My child was afflicted with kidney complaint and suffered severely from backache and headaches. The doctors could give no relief and the various remedies that were tried proved just as useless. At last we learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and my husband obtained a box. This preparation soon brought relief and since taking it, the child has been in much better health. I give Doan's Kidney Pills my most hearty endorsement.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ITALIANS HOLDING
THE DARDANELLES*Constantinople In Danger of Being Starved Out

Constantinople, April 26.—Much more serious than is officially admitted was the bombardment of the Dardanelles fort by the Italian warships. The Kumkash fort was completely demolished. Three hundred Turks were killed and 315 wounded. Of the latter 265 were brought to Constantinople, while the others are in the hospital at Kumkash.

The situation in Constantinople is becoming more serious daily. There is a dearth of provisions and it is feared that nothing in that line is coming in. One hundred steamships are waiting in Greek harbors for permission to pass the Dardanelles.

There is plenty of cereals aboard the ships in the Bosphorus, but all are consigned abroad.

The field includes Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and western Pennsylvania.

TITANIC'S SPEED WAS DANGEROUS

Testimony That She Was Going
Above 22 Miles an Hour.

PROGRESS OF INVESTIGATION

Senate Committee Daily Is Securing
Additional Light on the Recent Marine Horror—Further Evidence That There Was a Vessel Within Sight of Giant Liner When She Was Appealing For Help.

Washington, April 26.—It was established beyond any question in the senate committee investigating the Titanic disaster that the Titanic was maintaining a speed of about 22½ miles an hour when the collision occurred. Quartermaster Rowe, who was among the last to leave the sinking ship, swore that he read the ship's log just before leaving the vessel and that it registered 260 knots, indicating its run from noon of Sunday until the time the accident occurred. He also declared that the iceberg scraped the entire starboard side of the Titanic and that from his position on the bridge on the stern of the boat he was apprehensive lest the bridge itself be torn away by the berg.

All the able seamen and stokers who were examined testified with startling unanimity to having seen the light of another ship within from three to five miles of the Titanic. It was impossible to shake them in this belief, and several declared that they could not only see the lights of the ship, but also her motion as she rode the waves. This testimony is corroborative of that given by Officer Boxhall, who told of having seen the mastlight and sidelights of a vessel which he estimated to be five miles away and which he signalled for an hour from the bridge of the Titanic, flashing calls for help in the Morse code and sending up rockets.

Captain Smith's Last Message.

Captain Smith's messenger told of a mysterious note that he carried from Captain Smith to the chief engineer of the Titanic after the collision, and in this connection recited the interesting facts that the lights in the stokers' room were out in fifteen minutes after the ship struck the iceberg. While the contents of this note will never be known, it is believed by members of the committee and others who have learned of it, that it contained an order from the captain to the chief engineer to start the pumps. The inquiry thus far has developed no testimony that would indicate that the pumps of the Titanic ever were started.

William Marconi, head of the wireless company bearing his name, and Harold C. Cottam, the wireless operator on board the Carpathia, were examined and wireless messages were introduced in evidence showing that officers of the Marconi company had instructed their wireless operators on the Carpathia to hold the details of the disaster for sale exclusively to a New York newspaper for a sum "in four figures." One of these messages was signed "Marconi," but Mr. Marconi denied all knowledge of that and declared that he disapproved of them. He contended that he had been desirous to obtain details of the disaster at the earliest moment for general distribution among public prints.

The Log of the Californian.

Two more witnesses who are expected to give important testimony were subpoenaed by Senator Smith to appear before the committee. They are the captain and a wireless operator on the steamship Californian, which is now in dock at Boston. They have been ordered to produce the log of the Californian. Captain J. H. Moore of the Canadian Pacific railroad's steamer Mount Temple is expected to arrive in this city today. He will testify before the committee with reference to a report that his ship passed within sight of the Titanic, saw her distress signals and failed to respond. Captain Moore prefers to appear in person before the committee rather than give his testimony to a Canadian commission.

Those Striking Stokers.

London, April 26.—The seamen's union has recommended that the striking firemen of the White Star liner Olympic return to their posts on condition that the company replaces one of the collapsible boats which it is alleged is unseaworthy.

THE PRESIDENT ATTACKS TEDDY

Taft's Boston Speech Arraigns
the Colonel.

PLAINLY AND TO THE POINT

In Winding Up a Day of Speechmaking in Massachusetts, Mr. Taft Broke His Long Silence on Roosevelt and In Words That Could Not Be Misunderstood Told What He Thinks of His Predecessor.

Boston, April 26.—Speaking in Boston last night, President Taft discharged what he characterized as one of the most painful duties of his life.
He broke his long silence on Roosevelt and told what he thinks of his predecessor and one-time friend.

Mr. Taft acknowledged his deep debt of gratitude to Colonel Roosevelt and spoke feelingly of the love and admiration he once had for him. But a situation had arisen, he contended, which compelled him as the titular leader of the movement for sane constitutional government to disregard his personal feelings and to speak plainly and to the point.

President Taft thereupon charged Roosevelt with deliberate misrepresentation of his (Taft's) speeches, with making false statements in regard to the president's position toward Lorimer, with changing front on the question of reciprocity in an effort to win the farmers' vote, with having made false charges of fraud against the president of the United States, with having repudiated his own trust record, and with having proven himself disloyal as a friend.

Charges Breach of Faith.

President Taft disclosed the fact that Roosevelt approved of the support which he (Taft) gave to Cannon in his candidacy for re-election as speaker, although Mr. Roosevelt now seeks to use the president's action in that matter as a political asset. President Taft reluctantly characterized his predecessor as "a menace to the entire business community," and in effect accused him of insincerity and a breach of faith in the matter of his third term.

"One who so lightly regards constitutional principles and especially the independence of the judiciary, one who is so naturally impatient of legal restraints and of due legal procedure and who has so misunderstood what liberty, regulated by law is, could not," said President Taft, "safely be entrusted with successive presidential terms. I say this sorrowfully, but I say it with the full conviction of its truth."

The president produced documentary evidence showing that Colonel Roosevelt had absolute knowledge that the president was opposed to the seating of Senator Lorimer. This evidence was in the form of a letter which Mr.
Taft himself wrote to Colonel Roosevelt. Yet Colonel Roosevelt has been industriously creating the impression that President Taft was one of the Lorimer supporters. President Taft produced further confidential letters that passed between himself and Roosevelt, showing that Roosevelt had given an unqualified indorsement of Canadian reciprocity which he is now criticizing.

The Boston speech ended a day of speechmaking by President Taft against Colonel Roosevelt in Massachusetts, whose primaries on April 30 will probably determine the fight for the Republican presidential nomination as between Taft and Roosevelt.

THE OTHER SIDE

Roosevelt Says Taft Concurred in the 1907 Action.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., April 26.—Colonel Roosevelt, answering the criticism of his harvester trust action, declares that Mr. Taft, as a member of his cabinet, concurred in the postponement of action in the proposed prosecution of the trust until after Herbert K.
Smith's investigation was finished and reported on. This report was not made during the remaining year and a half of his administration, the colonel points out by reference to letters from Commissioner of Corporations Smith, because of pressure of work upon that bureau in steel, lumber and Standard Oil investigations.

The report has never since been made, and the colonel was careful to point out as he handed out the statement, that, although all the memoranda have been in the possession of President Taft for nearly four years,
"he has taken no action except that now taken five days before the Massachusetts primary."

Mr. Roosevelt was careful to point to his last argument that "if the action taken in the harvester trust did secure the good will of that trust or of any other Morgan interests for anybody it secured their good will for Mr.
Taft," who, the colonel asserted, he then expected would run for the nomination in 1908. The harvester trust records publication moved the colonel to memories of John Paul Jones.

"What was it John Paul Jones responded when they asked him to surrender? 'Gentlemen, I have just begun to fight,' and since these gentlemen want it I'll give it to them and plenty," laughed the colonel.

SHE HELD HIS PURSE

Traveling Man's Experience With Gypsy Fortune Teller.

Danville, Ind., April 26.—A. L. Patterson, a traveling man of Chicago, was the victim of a smooth fortune teller, and had it not been for a constable he would still be mourning the loss of $20. While selling a bill of goods a gypsy woman came in and asked to be allowed to tell his fortune. Patterson consented and gave the woman his purse to hold.
After she left he missed $20. The woman was arrested and admitted she stole the money. She returned it, paid the court costs of $15 and was allowed to go.

Probability of Settlement.

New York, April 26.—The representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers are holding a further conference today with Charles P.
Neill, United States labor commissioner, and M. A. Knapp, presiding judge of the United States court of commerce, the two mediators who have offered their services to bring about a settlement of the differences between the engineers and the railroads.
All that Mr. Neill would say was that satisfactory progress is being made.

HERE TO POUR OIL ON TROUBLED WATER

Reported John Cheney Came up Today to Persuade Dennis O'Neil to Withdraw Charges.

AGAINST WALLACE MORGAN

John Cheney, deputy prosecutor of Shelby county, appointed by Prosecutor Dennis O'Neil, was here on a mission today. He came, not to conduct the deliberations of the grand jury, but to pour oil on the troubled waters in the Democratic sea. It is said that Mr. Cheney would attempt to have Dennis O'Neil withdraw the charges which he made in the petition to revoke the appointment of Wallace Morgan as his deputy. It will be remembered Mr. Morgan entered a denial to all the charges and demanded an investigation. The hearing has been set for tomorrow morning. But now it is understood an effort to compromise was to be made by Mr. Cheney today so that it would all pass off peaceably.

TO DECIDE ABOUT COUNTY CAMPAIGN

Committee Will Determine Whether Plan to Bring Biederwolf Here Shall be Taken Up.

MEETING HERE NEXT TUESDAY

The executive committee of the committee of one hundred of the Methodist and Religion Forward Movement will meet next Tuesday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock at the first Presbyterian church, together with any other men who wish to join in the conference, to determine whether or not the Protestant churches of Rushville and Rush county shall take up the plan suggested by speakers at the three days' campaign here last week to bring Dr. Biederwolf, the noted evangelist, and his corps of workers here to conduct a countrywide evangelistic campaign which will be one of the first in the Statewide campaign which is being planned in Indiana.

If this gathering decides it would be wise to hold such a campaign in Rush county next fall, possibly in October, the matter will be presented to a committee composed of each minister and a layman from each church in the county. It is supposed, in that event, each minister will come either with the disapproval or sanction of the official board of his church.

FRUIT YIELD WILL NOT BE BIG

Mercer Brown, Spiceland Expert Believes Cold Weather of Winter Injured Crop Badly.

ADVICE AS TO PROPER CARE

Last Year's Heavy Bearing Prevents Trees From Forming New Buds, he Says.

Several have asked me whether the fruit was not all killed by the cold weather of the past winter, writes Mercer Brown, the experienced fruit grower of Spiceland in the Newcastle Courier.

The apple, pear and larger fruit, except peaches, are seldom, if ever, killed by the cold during the winter months. It is the sudden changes from warm to extreme cold that damages fruit in this country, or most frequently it is the late frost that comes after the trees are in bloom or later when the fruit is set.

There are several reasons why we do not have more and better fruit in Indiana. First I will mention the way orchards are neglected. This is especially true of the apple. Men buy trees, set them out and cultivate a few years and then let them go to care for themselves. The consequence is that in time the roots of the trees become starved and do not supply the necessary amount of food to keep the tree up to that standard of vitality which is essential to produce that crisp, well matured and high flavored fruit that we ought and could produce here in Indiana.

The remedy is, first to prune the tops, take out all surplus branches, those that are decaying or lie across other limbs also in the process of pruning you should thin all parts of the top that shade the inside branches and thus enable them to mature fruit buds, also to allow the sun to color the fruit and give it that high polish essential to good flavor.

Then when the tree is properly pruned, feed the roots with some good fertilizer, such as old straw or manure, not too strong in ammonia like that from the horse barn, but add wood ashes to obtain potash necessary to feed the roots of the tree.

There will not be a very large amount of fruit this year from the fact that the trees were so heavily loaded with fruit last season that the trees did not form fruit buds for this year's crop. I believe that if the trees had been properly cultivated and pruned as indicated above, and where the trees were overloaded had been sufficiently thinned as they do in the west, that we would have fruit every year, barring late frosts which may be abbreviated by a system of orchard heating with oil stoves which has proved successful in the great apple growing districts of the west.

This is a good year to prune when the trees being bare of fruit has nothing to do but to repair the wounds made by cutting away the surplus branches and to mature strong, healthy fruit buds for a crop next year.

Another thing I might mention. Two years ago we had practically no fruit so that the apple moth had no place to lay eggs. Consequently there were but few of them last season to lay eggs anywhere. But last year there being an abundance of apples everywhere, that they could propagate their young, we may expect that this year, unless checked by spraying, we will have plenty of wormy fruit.

Summarizing, you must prune, cultivate and spray each year if we expect to have fruit; thus we can raise as nice fruit and better flavored than they can produce in the western States where they boast of raising the best fruit in the world.
